"It is urgent that Congress act quickly to begin oversight and implementation of these reforms. The Justice Department has the authority, under the Constitution, to conduct a comprehensive investigation in the settlement cases before the courts. The report suggests that the Justice Department should conduct that investigations for this country as well as other countries," Nadler said.. "Housing is one of the most sensitive and politically charged issues of our time," said Rep. Jerrold Nadler of New York.. The Obama administration launched an investigation of Israeli settlements in April 2016. Since then at least 16 settlements have been removed from the legal status of settlements.. First, the committee recommended, under existing law, that the Obama administration conduct an exhaustive and impartial investigation of whether settlements violate international law in violation of US policies. The Obama administration was unable to fully investigate all of the Israeli settlements in October, and it did not conduct a full review of the Israeli government's settlement policies.. Nadler is chairman of the House Select Committee on Oversight and Government Reform. In his report, he identified three key recommendations, which he said are the only ones possible under law to bring justice to the cases of the Arab American community and the Palestinian community victims of settler violence and destruction that he believes were intentionally or inadvertently perpetrated by the Israeli government..
